At Least It's One Way to Beat the Heat

"Don't turn it on!" is the warning of Policeman Thomas Lawler, as two-year-old Billy Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Miller, 318 North Hanover street approaches a fire plug at Hanover and West streets with the possible hope of getting a cool shower while temperatures bound upward. The hot cast envious eyes at the hydrant just before a light shower fell on Pottstown at 12:30 p. m. yesterday.

FLIGHT 'OKAY,' ODOM REPORTS

Bombshell Speeding Across Atlantic Ocean In Global Solo Test

GANDER Nfld. Friday Aug 8 (AP)—Terse message — Flying at 19,000 feet everything OK — was received today from William P. Odom, speeding over the North Atlantic in his twin-engine Bombsnell in an effort to cut the round the world solo flight record set in 1933 by the late Wiley Post.

The message was relayed here from an American Overseas Airways plane, which picked up Odom's message in mid Atlantic. It was timed 1:01 a. m. ADT (11:31 p. m. Pottstown time Thursday) and if Odom had maintained his speed it would cut him more than 1500 from Gander en route to Paris.

Odom planned to continue from Paris to Rome if a stop-over was unnecessary. In clearing at customs, Odom asked clearance to Rome.

The bombsnell was refueled here with 1200 gallons of high octane gasoline.

Taking off from Gander at 8:11 p. m., after a five hour and 18-minute flight from Chicago and an hour's stop-over, Odom said his next stop would be Paris.

Flare gone in one converted bomber, Odom corrected a short-

Mercury Calls Odom Out Over Atlantic

The Mercury tried for more than three hours last night and early this morning to contact William P. Odom as he flew eastward over the Atlantic.

A call was first placed with the overseas operator in New York, ready to be handled by the Bell Telephone system's ship-to-shore relay at New York, at 11:35 p. m.

The Mercury had nearly top priority for the call, being fourth on a list of 15 at 1:38 a. m. of persons who had attempted to contact the pilot.

An operator in New York informed The Mercury that possible atmospheric disturbances were holding up the long distance conversation.

Area Gets Much-Needed Rain, Bringing Relief to Farm Crops

Fears that county crops would suffer ruinous damage from recent dry weather were abated yesterday with the appearance of rain during the early afternoon and through the evening.

Although farmers were not too worried about the looks of their crops prior to the arrival of precipitation, they smiled at its appearance. A light shower starting shortly before 2 p. m. yesterday, and another in the evening which continued into this morning's early hours, accounted for three-fourths of an inch rainfall.

According to R. G. Waltz, Montgomery county agriculture extension agent, "Pastures and lawns suffered most from the absence of rain." He added that "corn needed moisture most due to its late start this season, yet it was not in bad shape over the county up until yesterday's rains."

"I won't say that the crops really needed the rain, but it came at just about the right time to do the most good. This goes for potatoes, tomatoes and the other food plants."

"Some farmers said that they were short of water in some parts of the county although the shortage was not serious. They used what they had sparingly, just in case."

"Generally speaking the crop outlook was not bad at all. The rain came at a good time, however."

Actually, the Pottstown area has been without rain only a little over a week. Light precipitation was felt here July 31 and a downpour of good magnitude fell early on July 28.

Waltz pointed out that some parts of the county have had a decent share of rain in the past two weeks, while other sections remained dry. Rainfall has been generally spotty, Waltz encountered heavy showers in (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Churchill Fights Laborites' Plea For More Power; Loses in Test

LONDON, Aug 7 (AP)—Winston Churchill gave notice today that his Conservative will try to throw out the Labor government's request for what he called "unlimited and undefined powers" to deal with Britain's economic difficulties.

The big Labor majority overrode Conservative criticism of the government's emergency program to tonight in a tie vote, 318 to 170, however, which apparently foreshadowed defeat of the Churchill motion. The vote came on a routine adjournment motion.

The Churchill motion to reject the government-proposed legislation was brought forward at the height of a crucial house of commons debate on Prime Minister's title's rigorous strength-through-sacrifice program. It was followed by disclosure that the ailing former prime minister, who had intended to take no active part in the debate, would assail the Attlee measures personally tomorrow.

Parliament's scheduled adjournment for a Summer recess was postponed from tomorrow until next Wednesday, however, to allow time for passage of the crisis bill, and it seemed certain to pass. Although Conservative spokesmen said their party would vote solidly against (Continued on Page Fifteen)

SENATE PROBES CALL TRUCE IN HUGHES BATTLE

Brewster Stands Pat, Denies Blackmail Charge In Air Lines Merger

WASHINGTON, Aug 7 (AP)—The Hughes-Brewster battle came to a stormy, inconclusive close tonight after Howard Hughes flung out fresh accusations of "lies" and "ulterior motives" in a Senate investigation of his war contracts.

Senator Brewster (R-Me), chairman of the Senate war investigating committee, stood on his denial that he had offered to call off the inquiry if Hughes would agree to merge his Trans World Airline with Pan American Airways.

And by agreement of the two antagonists the committee closed that phase of its inquiry after two tense days of the sworn chase and its sworn denial standing on the record.

The agreement followed half an hour's wrangling at the close of the day over what the committee should do about the conflict.

"I don't have the strength to go on," said Hughes, complaining he got only two hours' sleep last night. "I feel that Senator Brewster is not telling the truth. I think that if I had the opportunity to cross-examine him I could prove it."

He advanced two alternatives: 1. That the particular issue—the truth or falsity of their contrasting statements—be dropped without further questions.

2. That Brewster be required to give a yes-or-no answer to questions Hughes raised about the Senator's previous testimony.

Brewster said he was "quite willing" to do whatever the committee decided.

Senator Pepper (D-Ma) finally turned to Hughes and asked:

"Senator Brewster says he is willing to let this issue stand on the record as it now is. Is that agreeable to you?"

Hughes said it was and Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) chairman of the subcommittee, announced:

"The chair will now rule that this matter is now closed."

Ferguson told reporters each side "has had all it wanted to say and the matter is closed."

He added that the committee will turn tomorrow morning to the investigation of Hughes' $18,000,000 cargo plane contract and then to the $22,000,000 photo reconnaissance plane contract.

One of Hughes' paring shots was an accusation of "ulterior motives" in the inquiry. He quoted a Senate agent as having said: "We're out to get Elliott Roosevelt."

The agent he mentioned, Francis Flanagan, investigator for the Senate war investigating committee, flung back a denial.

That was only one of many charges and denials, all under oath, batted back and forth before a subcommittee poking into $40,000,000 in wartime plane contracts the Government gave millionaire Hughes and industrialist Henry J. Kaiser.

Hughes testified that "I felt I was being blackmailed by Senator Brewster and called Brewster's disclaimer 'a pack of lies'."

Partially deaf, Hughes replied on a telephone and an amplifying system as he spent long hours on the grill.

Near the afternoon windup he said Flanagan had made the get Elliott's remark to Noah Dietrich, vice president of the Hughes Tool company. That he testified, was when Flanagan went to the West coast the past March to check records and get information for the inquiry.

Hughes reading of a statement charging Brewster with uttering "untruths" brought an angry protest from Brewster who demanded (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Big Air Force Urged by Hunt As U. S. Defense

By ED ROSENBERG (Mercury Staff Writer)

"We must build and keep in readiness the greatest air force in the world to guarantee our lives and honor. It must be strong enough to destroy the Russian air force in 24 hours at any time."

This simple formula was the solution to the complex problem of Russo-American relations, pronounced last night by Frazier Hunt, veteran newspaperman and world traveler, speaking to members of the Rotary at the meeting. His topic was "Russia As I See It."

Hunt was the only American correspondent in Russia for six months after the 1917 Revolution, and since then has made six trips to that nation. He was a correspondent abroad during both World Wars and is the author of ten books on world affairs.

He denied the fear of war between the U. S. and Russia saying that we can prevent it by keeping our air force mighty and by keeping the secret of the atom ours for as long as possible, although he admitted Russia will have the secret relatively soon.

Prior to his recipe for keeping world peace by preparing for possible world war the large, florid-faced writer traced American-Russian relations briefly from 1917 to the present.

For 25 years, he pointed out, Russia devoted her energies to internal problems and was no danger to the world. But since the end of World War II she has become a menace.

He lashed out strongly at the American administration leaders for their support of Russia.

"The things done in Yalta and Teheran we will pay for for more years than our youngest grandchildren will see," the silver-thatched orator proclaimed.

"We gave away countries at those two meetings and jeopardized the peace of the world for the next 50 years. Great evil was unconsciously done at those places that set us back in the path of true progress."

After the war, we found Russia not a meek or decent neighbor. She pounced on neighboring lands and failed to show any decency and still our leaders couldn't shake themselves of their egotism and realize that they had made a bad deal."

Hunt attacked the Truman and Marshall plans saying that we should not pour billions into Europe endlessly.

Spring City Girl Is Rescued From Raft Swept Out to Sea

Helen Allen, 345 New street, Spring City, was one of four teenagers rescued near Avalon N. J. yesterday by a Coast Guard patrol boat when their rubber raft was being swept to sea and was approaching a treacherous sandbar that had been the scene of numerous drownings.

When spotted by a lookout in the patrol tower at Townsend's Inlet, the girls were trying to paddle shoreward but were being carried out to sea by a strong tide and a brisk west wind.

Miss Allen, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph L.

Allen and a student at Baldwin school, Bryn Mawr, has been at Avalon since June 30.

She accompanied her parents there on a 10-day visit earlier in June, liked it, and decided to stay on with friends. She planned to come home today.

Her parents who hadn't heard the news until late last night, planned to contact the Coast Guard at Avalon to make sure Helen had emerged unharmed from the narrow escape.

The other three rescuees were Mary J. Riffe, 18, Wallingford; Elizabeth Ann Pugh, Media, and Betty Jane Hedgpeth, 17, West Hampton, Va.

PROJECT SLATED FOR THIS YEAR, COUNTY IS TOLD

10-Year Fight to Widen 'Death Trap' Won After Plea Direct to Governor

Improvement of the Layfield road this year was assured yesterday when William F. Lamb Sr., president of the Pottstown Automobile club, disclosed that D. C. Stackpole, district engineer of the State Highway commission, has received an emergency appropriation for the work.

The road which Lamb previously had termed a "death trap," has claimed the lives of two women in automobile accidents since May.

Following the last fatal accident, in which a 21-year-old Obelisk girl was killed, Lamb took direct action on the issue and communicated with Gov. James Duff and Ray F. Smock, secretary of highways.

In a strongly-worded letter, he told the governor:

"We can not continue to save lives with promises," explaining the ten-year fight to have this road improved.

Replies to his letters assured Lamb the situation would be corrected and confirmation of these assurances were received from County Commissioners Peter C. Hillegass and Frederick C. Peters.

The county commissioners told Lamb that plans now being drawn by Stackpole calling for a three-foot strip on each side of the 16-foot highway from Swamp to Pennsburg have been approved by the Highway department in Harrisburg. In addition, Stackpole has asked for, and has received, an emergency appropriation for the work. He has assured the commissioners that construction will begin this year.

In the event that labor or materials should not be available to complete the proposed construction, Stackpole said the road would get temporary repairs at all danger points this year.

Lamb's direct action brought the situation to the attention of the Highway department through Stackpole in the Ardmore office, the governor, and directly through Smock.

In his reply to Lamb, Stackpole said:

"I am familiar with the condition (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Social Club Request For Zoning Variance Being Deliberated

Application of Henry J. Williams, of 720 Isabella street, for a variance from the borough zoning ordinance which would permit the erection of a building for the Needle Eye Social club at 722 Isabella street is being held under advisement by the zoning board of adjustment Jay Rinehart, chairman.

Williams who is president of the club, has filed at borough hall the club charter and list of club officers. Plans submitted by club officers to the adjustment board are for a one-story concrete block building with a basement. At present the club has its quarters at Williams' home.

The adjustment board has approved two applications for variances, according to Borough Manager Dow I. Sears secretary of the board.

Stephen and Neska Knopf of 331 North Evans street, will be permitted to erect a one-story frame building at 329 North Evans street for use as a barber shop.

Russell Baalon of 22 Remonds avenue, will be given a permit to erect a pumping station and show room at 332 North Franklin street.

Hearings on the applications were held last week by the board which is composed of Chairman Rinehart, George Peacock and Irwin W. Reznar.

Communist Vote Poor in German Areas Except in Zone Controlled by Russians

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
BERLIN, Aug. 7 (P)—The German Communist party has "proved the least effective" of the major political parties where it has faced a fair election without support of the Russian occupying power, according to an official analysis of the American military government.

In the three Western zones — occupied by the U. S., Britain and France and containing approximately 70 percent of Germany's population — the Communists could scrape up more than 10 percent of the vote only in the larger industrial cities.

Even in quaker parties — occupied Berlin, where the Communists were on the ticket as the dominant portion of the Socialist unity party, they suffered a severe drubbing from the Independent Social Democrats in the city's first postwar election on the past Oct. 20.

The Independent Socialists had revolted against merger with the Communists which was carried out in the Soviet occupation zone, allegedly under strong Russian pressure. In Berlin the Socialists captured 47 percent of the vote in a four-party race with the Communists finishing a poor third with less than 20 percent.

Only in the Russian occupation zone — where the Social Democrats were outlawed and the Socialist unity party had special position as a government party — could the Communists achieve dominance. The Communist Democrats, one of the two opposition parties "banned" in the Russian zone raised objections that the election battle was fought "with very unfair weapons."

In the Western zones, according to a summary made by Richard M. Scammon, head of the politics and elections section of the American military government and published in AMG's official weekly information bulletin, the German Communists have been "the most active and least effective of the major parties."

Scammon said the German Communists, with their strength in the Western zones largely based on industrial workers, had made strenuous efforts to enlist support from such other elements as the middle class, youth and farmers with special propaganda.

While these efforts to secure support have had considerable success in other countries in Western Europe (France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Scandinavia), Scammon wrote, they have had little success in Western Germany.

"Even in Hamburg, a strong point of German Communism and home of Ernst Thaelmann, the late party leader and pre-central candidate in 1932, the Communists polled far less in the 1932-33 Reichstag elections — dropping from 21.9 percent to 10.4 percent of the vote."

Model Airplane Club Meets at Homestead

Light rain and overcast skies notwithstanding, a few hardy members of the Pottstown Model Airplane club turned out for an evening's flying at the Daniel Boone Homestead near Baumtown last night.

Edward W. Jameson, president of the club, had the only real mishap of the evening when his craft crashed, sheering off a wing and breaking a propeller.

Testing his new Comet Zipper, Henry Pratt saw it take off out of sight on its second trial run, forcing him to chase it two miles away where it landed on a farm, still intact.

Jameson announced that plans for the club's meet, to be held jointly with the Phoenixville Model Airplane club, have been advanced with the sponsorship of the Optimist club, which has promised to advertise the event and help furnish prizes.

The site of the meet will be the Homestead on Sept. 14.

Stowe Man Injured In Cafe Disturbance

A Stowe man was treated for deep lacerations of the scalp in the Pottstown hospital dispensary last night as the result of a barroom fracas.

James Machan, proprietor of the Wallace Cafe, 12 South Hanover street, swore out a warrant against Marvin Geiger, 21, 510 Race street, charging him with being drunk and disorderly and making threats of bodily harm.

Geiger, the proprietor charged, entered the cafe about 9 o'clock last night and became unruly when told to leave. Machan tried to put him out and Geiger fell, cutting his head.

Motor Patrolman Lewis Borgert and Patrolman Robert Scheidt were called to the cafe and took Geiger to the hospital for treatment.

Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kellew, Second ward, issued the warrant.

In the gaily-decorated gymnasium of the St. Clair outlying, South and Charlotte streets, 225 youngsters, parents, and friends danced last evening to recorded music.

Patricia Spewer and Nancy Sides were the winners of an elimination dance, while Betty Jane Wansnock won the magic carpet number.

Chaperones were Bob Scheffey and Phyllis Bertollet, supervisors; Lorraine Hurter, Dorothy and Mary Lou Purnell, and Francis Donnon, recreation director.

An expected attendance of 200 youngsters dwindled down to 65 at the playground moves last night at Manatawny park, due to the rainy weather. A new series of pictures, sponsored by Spicer Union U. A. W. 644, was shown, featuring comic and sports shorts.

There is not so much difference in men's ideas of elementary truth, as is generally thought. A greater difference lies in their power of reasoning from these truths.—Emmons.

A Community Project

ALL THE beauty of Manatawny park, all the fun and enjoyment, all the attraction of expertly played music is going unappreciated because of mosquitoes.

Ninth ward residents, living in the vicinity of the park and some blocks away—are complaining that they cannot take their babies for a stroll because of the pests. Other residents say they can't even sit outdoors on warm nights unless they're "chewed up" by the winged annoyers.

This is a sad situation. Manatawny park is lovely. It has been developed into one of the finest recreation spots in the community. It affords young and old alike that surcease so necessary to enjoyment of life.

Because of the highly specialized art of recreation today, Manatawny park has become an outdoor theater. Recreation Director Francis Donnon and his staff have been presenting entertainments that attract hundreds.

Then, too, the Pottstown Band, under the able direction of William F. Lamb Jr., has been bringing joy to the hearts of music lovers with free concerts there.

But all this is wasted because the crash of cymbals is drowned out by the swarming of mosquitoes. The fragrance of the outdoors is smothered under the pungent aroma of citronella which park visitors use to discourage the mosquitoes' drills.

Time was when Ninth warders complained of Goose run's noisome odors. They couldn't live for the odor that hung over the Manatawny.

That condition was changed by borough action.

Today the plague of mosquitoes also can be controlled. Necessary only is a bit of cooperation.

Ninth warders say the breeding spots of mosquitoes is not the Manatawny's waters, but lies in swamp land to the west of Manatawny park's elevation. Because Manatawny park above the waters through a filling-in process, some of the creek's waters are diverted into the meadows. There marshy land now exists, and mosquitoes find the secluded and moist terrain fine for breeding purposes.

How to end the plague?

Because the Manatawny is State waters, mosquitoes can't be killed by dumping oil on its surface—a most expeditious way of slaughtering the pest.

But the park and its environs could be sprayed with DDT.

Most convenient way would be to spray the territory from an airplane. Army experts say such spraying will lay low the mosquitoes for three or four-day periods. Then the process might be repeated. Every time an event is scheduled there that might attract large crowds, the terrain should be doused with DDT.

Who'd spray it?

Some organized group, like one of Pottstown's civic clubs, could induce Johnny Basco, owner of the Pottstown airport at Stowe to trundle out his airplane for the job. Mr. Basco knows where to obtain spraying equipment.

Now all that's necessary is the money to buy DDT.

What civic group is looking for a community project that will warm the cockles of everyone's heart? Raise the right hands, please.

Memory Perhaps Short

To the Editor: When will our councilmen take their obligation of office seriously and honestly?

Good men are hard to find regardless of party affiliation. It would seem that when such a man is found and he proves his worth for the position he holds through merit, sound judgment and impartiality, he should be retained.

Yet one of our political parties at Tuesday night's session tried to inject politics into the selection of a place on the civil service commission by putting up a rubber stamp for their party.

The vote of C. Roy Bush is hard to take after listening to him for several years preach, "Keep politics out of the police department."

Perhaps his memory is short or he didn't mean what he said. But others have a long memory and won't forget. Pottstown VETERAN

Enforce Curfew Law

To the Editor: Why don't the police enforce the curfew law? It is too bad that children are allowed to roam the streets freely after the sounding of the curfew, for this implants in them the idea that law enforcement in Pottstown is a joke. If they can get away with this because the cops don't interfere, they reason, then certainly they can get away with violations of other laws.

One of the greatest trainings of future Pottstown citizens is to make them abide by the curfew law and to see that it is enforced rigidly. Not only will it keep youngsters off the street but it will teach them that the law is not to be trifled with and must be obeyed.

Let the police car roam the streets after curfew and apprehend those who are still out. Pottstown J. M. L.

'Generation Of Crisis'

To the Editor: We are the generation of crisis. Upon our decisions the balance of disaster and final triumph rest. Unless we dissuade ourselves from all political and national influences, the earth shall perish.

It is for us, the peoples of earth to make our decision, to become the forefathers of final, lasting peace or the last trace of human race ever to exist. Peace and world organization can not, and will not, survive so long as one nation or one race is denied the right to freedom. Pottstown S. S. S.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

PAUL W. 35, is a successful clerkman. "Dr. Crane, what is your view concerning telepathy?" he inquired at a banquet which we both attended.

"A great deal of stress is being put on the subject today. I recall a radio program that was once built around the idea. And I believe in it myself."

"Why, in the middle of the morning when I am preparing a secret in my mind, I'll think of something I want to say to my wife. I may walk to the kitchen to tell her, when she remarks about the very same thing, even before I have a chance to open my mouth."

"Isn't this telepathy, Dr. Crane? If not, how do you account for it?"

No, this isn't telepathy. And we should avoid saying "mental telepathy," for such phrase is an evidence of redundancy. Only the word "mental" for telepathy means "mental transference."

But how shall we solve Paul's supposed example of telepathy? If I tell you to respond with the first word that comes to mind when I say "black" you will probably answer "white." Why?

Because black has been associated with white in most of our minds just as boys and girls are also linked by popular usage, or men and women, tables and chairs, etc. Since we have the same associations with reference to many words and situations, if two of us meet the key word "black," then by habit we should often think alike. But this is not telepathy.

Did you ever enter a limerick contest? Well, the judges may find 1000 last lines which are identical. Does that mean the 999 read the mind of the first contestant to write such a line?

Not at all. It simply shows that human thinking is very similar because we have been exposed to much the same kind of educational and social environments.

A friend of mine told his wife one morning at breakfast, "I'm afraid something has happened to Mother." Before he left the table he received a telegram saying she was dead. "Telepathy?" Not at all.

He had visited his mother a few weeks before and admitted to me that he thought she had looked thin and pale. Moreover, her weekly letter hadn't arrived the previous afternoon. And an office associate had been struck and killed by an automobile just the day before.

Now notice the interesting chain of ideas that probably grouped themselves in his subconscious mind. Death struck somebody near him. So he was in a moody frame of mind. His mother looked pale, and her letter didn't arrive.

Perhaps while shaving that morning he had also subconsciously noted the tolling of the church bells in a neighboring steeple. Out of these marginal or subconscious ideas, came the full blown thought, "I'm afraid something has happened to Mother."

Startling in nature, it now usurps his conscious attention, and causes him to express his worry aloud to his wife at the breakfast table.

If he had received his mother's usual letter that morning and had found that she was well, he would probably never have recalled the incident. But, like most patrons of fortune tellers, he remembered the incident that happened to come true, and forgot the hundreds that didn't materialize.

Don't permit yourself to be misled by quackery and so-called mystics, even though a majority of people seemingly want to believe in magic and mystery.

Incidentally, that is why it is so easy to delude people, for they actually seem to prefer the dramatic, goose-pimply thing in contrast to methodical science. Science involves hard work, diligent attention to detail, and years of toil. Many people prefer shortcuts; hence, their belief in magic and superstitions. But teach your children to be scientifically skeptical, like Doubting Thomas.

WASHINGTON
One-World Dream Now A Two-World Nightmare
By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The threatening shadow of a new hostile Russia hangs so darkly and completely over Washington and the non-Communist universe that it influences and distorts opposing nations' decisions on every domestic and international problem... diplomatic, military, political, economic and social.

As General Eisenhower said in a surprisingly frank and realistic statement at Cheyenne, the Wilkie-Roosevelt dream of a "one world" after the Axis defeat has become a nightmare of "two worlds"—the United States and a group of weak, bankrupt, disunited allies against Russia and her satellites in Eastern Europe.

MOVE: Every administration move since March (and most of them have obtained Congressional support from Republicans and Democrats) has been made with its effect on Russia in mind. To wit:

1. President Truman requested $400,000,000 for Greece and Turkey, and an additional $322,000,000 for stricken areas, largely to strengthen them against Communist plots and infiltration.

2. The Marshall plan was merely an expansion of the Greco-Turkish scheme. It was an afterthought designed to destroy the impression that we were lining up Western European nations against the Soviet.

3. It was Russian aggression in the Orient which inspired the Wedemeyer mission to China, and a revision of our attitude toward Chiang Kai-shek. We still cannot swallow the Generalissimo's bad manner and undemocratic methods, but we must support him lest his government collapse under northern Communist assaults.

BOGEY: The Russian bogey also underlies the latest Marshall plan to scrap the Teheran-Yalta-Potsdam program for a "weak Germany."

Despite French protests and fears, Washington and London want a controlled, prosperous and fairly powerful Reich (that is industrially) as a buffer against Russian encroachment in Western Europe.

In this country, at the Administration's behest, Congress passed laws to prevent Communist agents and spies from forming fifth columns inside the federal establishment and the armed services, as the Nazis did in France, Norway and many other countries before the outbreak of the war in 1939.

DIFFERENCES: Now the Russian shadow has begun to exert a deep and far-reaching effect on domestic politics, industry, and economy. It envisages a "commonwealth" under which all partisanship—or almost all—and economic disagreements must be forgotten in the struggle between capitalism and Communism.

President Truman's new argument is that opposition politicians and industrialists must sink their differences in order to bulwark the free enterprise system against the "Reds' subtle attack here and abroad.

Arguing that a major depression in the United States might swing many nations into the Moscow orbit—France, Italy, Greece, Germany, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, to mention only a few—he has urged politico-economic opponents to declare a moratorium on partisan strife over these questions.

INTERVENTION: Secretary Marshall, for instance, has urged the necessity of blockading and discrediting Stalin in asking Capitol Hill Republicans to provide authority and funds for his plan. In most instances to date they have complied.

President Truman, stressing the need for a permanently prosperous United States as an antidote to the spread of Marxism, has asked management and labor to keep the peace.

Most recent and specific example of this sort of intervention is his plea to the steel industry to increase its productive facilities, so that it can fill both domestic and foreign demands in the face of Russia's jeers at the Truman-Marshall program.

PRECEDENT: It is admittedly an unusual experience in American politics on the eve of a presidential election. It has a precedent, however, in President Roosevelt's 1939-1940 plea that policies stop at the water's edge because of the war clouds then threatening to envelop the United States.

In short, President Truman and Secretary Marshall have warned managerial heads, capital investors, labor bosses and politicians that they can save their profits, their wages and their jobs only if they combine with him to demonstrate to Russians, satellite slaves and the rest of the world that our system provides the best chance of coming out first in the "pursuit of life, liberty and happiness."

Republican strategists and publicists concede that it will be difficult to combat an issue so voiced and presented at the next session of Congress and in the 1948 presidential campaign.

They are beginning to concede that Harry S. Truman, whom they have underestimated until lately, is an extremely sagacious politician in his own right.

By PHILLIPS

In Gay Paree last week the very social Curt Valentin (who owns an impressive art gallery on 5th street) and the even bluer-blooded Peggy Guggenheim dined together in a smart spot on the Champs Elysee and almost drooled into their champagne when famed artist Picasso joined their table to discuss the brush and easel trade. While gabbing, Picasso—any one of whose canvases is worth what Johnny Meyer lays out each year for Howard Hughes parties—sketched idly with a pencil on one of those large flat soda crackers that are popular in French restaurants. When he left the table, art fiends Valentin and Guggenheim made a mad scramble for the illustrated cracker which would, of course, have made a collectors' item. Picasso on whole wasn't it was almost too much! In the scramble it was veered slightly from the cracker off the table and onto the floor, where Peggy's little puppy, no connoisseur of art but quite a gourmet, chewed it up in three gulps.

In Hollywood

By JONNIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 7.—I invite your consideration of two news items printed the other day in Hollywood trade papers.

Item one stated that Warner Brothers, during the nine-month period ending on May 1, 1947, had made a net profit of $19,000,000—$4,000,000 more than it had netted during the nine months ending May 1, 1946.

In mulling that one, please remember that the 1946 profits of Warner Brothers, like those of every other major studio, were nearly twice as great as those earned in any previous year.

Item two stated that Betty Grable, who, if memory serves me right, made only one picture for 20th Century-Fox in 1946, received, during that year, a salary of $299,333, which, incidentally, was $40,000 more than the salary paid production chief Darryl Zanuck, and $45,000 more than the wage paid to Spyros Skoufos, president of the corporation.

Yet the producers of Hollywood are screaming blue murder. They say that the box office returns from movies are slumping dangerously, and that ruin lies just around the corner. They say—and several executives of big theater chains have backed them up by saying the same thing—that with depression ahead and production costs still mounting, it would be financial suicide to cut theater admission fees.

Unless two and two have suddenly become seven, I say somebody is talking through his federal body which is netting as least twice as much as it did in normal times (when, incidentally, it made big money CAN afford to give the buying public a break. An industry which can afford to pay stars like Betty Grable $300,000 for a single year's work (and she's not the highest paid, by a long shot), can afford to sell pictures for a price which Joan and Jane Public can pay out of a budget which already has been stretched to the breaking point by high prices.

MEMORIES THAT BLESS AND BURN: When Douglas Fairbanks Sr., during the production of "Robin Hood," attempted a running jump into the saddle from a low balcony—and the horse ungraciously jumped out from under while Doug was in mid air—When Jack Oakie pulled one too many gags at the expense of the USC football players who were working with him in a college gridiron thriller, and they all ganged up on him in the next scrimmage shot... When studio bosses called on their new "Latin" find, Cesar Romero, to act as interpreter for a group of visiting South American dignitaries, only to discover that Cesar, born in the United States, spoke no Spanish at all.

Dana Andrews is a realist. When he started to read his script for "Daisy Kenyon," he raised his eyebrows questionably, then nodded an okay, on discovering that he was to slay his wife, played by Joan Crawford. A few pages later, he learned that he was to cuff his daughter, played by Peggy Ann Garner—and again he raised a an objection. But when he found that the script called for him to kick a dog, he threw down the scenario and walked into the office of studio boss, Darryl Zanuck.

"Nothing doing," he announced flatly. "I know in advance how many complaints I'd get from in-barn dog lovers! The studio bosses agreed, and struck out the offending scene."

Tomorrow's Problem

East won the spade J hand: covered by the Q with his A and, to avoid helping South play the other suits, sent back the spade 9 to the K. South ran three hearts and three diamonds, then put forth the spade 7, not caring too much about who won it. He knew that if the winner of that trick returned a spade or diamond, he could ruff the trick in one holding and discard a club from the other. West, who took that trick, read the situation in the same way. So he decided that a club return was the side's sole hope for the trick which would beat the contract. He picked the 3, but it really made no difference. South played low from the dummy. East stuck in the J and the A won. Then the club 9 was finessed successfully.

If South had led the club suit himself, instead of throwing the defenders in with a spade after the diamonds had been eliminated, he would have had to lose a club trick. In other words, with the Q and J in opposite hands, whichever side made the first lead of the suit was certain to forfeit a trick thereby.

Don't Start This Suit

When you hold from two to four cards of a suit headed by the J or Q and your partner has several topped by the other of those honors, your side is bound to have the third-round trick set up if you don't start the suit. By the same token, if your side has several headed by the A-10 opposite several topped by the K-9, you will get three tricks whenever the Q or J are in opposite hands if the other fellows lead it. With either of these holdings, you don't want to start the suit yourself.

GRACE LUTHERAN WINS—Although Stan Miller gave out but four high Grace Lutheran Brethren dropped a 3-3 eighth-inning decision in the second last Sunday School baseball league race last night at Eighth street field.

TYPHOID VICTIM—Eight-year-old Donald Fetterly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Fetterly, Chestnut street, Spring City, was stricken with typhoid fever last night. The home was quarantined by Health Officer A. W. Northacker.

RETURN—Burgess William A. Griffith and Mrs. Griffith have returned to the maddening crowd after a few days' rest at the seashore. Things are getting so tough that housewives may soon be wearing dresses and housecoats made of material once designed for their bedrooms. Shortages of print fabrics usually made into dresses and other apparel are now forcing clothing manufacturers to turn to sheeting material. The sheeting is dyed, printed with patterns and made into dresses, children's garments, housecoats and so on. It's a wartime practice that's being revived.

DECLINE—Radio listeners got a bang when they heard for three times and a bopbox they could snare one of those ballpoint fountain pens. And just a short time ago they were among the luxury items. But that's not all. Washington figures say just a few months ago 100 manufacturers were turning out variations of the ballpoint pens. But the weaker ones are leaving the field at the rate of five or six a week. And so many war vets lost their shirts investing in grocery stores because the previous owner misrepresented the value of the property, that retail grocers' associations across the nation are setting up advisory boards to assist the investing vet without charge.

STREPTOMYCIN is the newest addition to the modern family of germ-fighting wonder drugs. There is still much to be learned about this new weapon against disease, but it has now been in use long enough for us to know that it is going to be of real value in many conditions.

The best thing about it is that it will attack germs which successfully resist both penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs. According to Dr. Sam L. Raines of Memphis, Tennessee, it is particularly effective against germs that cause infections of the urinary tract.

Dr. Raines treated 52 patients with such urinary tract infections, produced by several germs, but particularly by a certain type of streptococcus. When the patients were given three million units of streptomycin daily for three days, practically all were cured. However, after about two weeks, many of the germs were again found, which indicates that reinfection of the urinary tract occurred.

A number of spectacular results were obtained with the streptomycin blood stream infections or "blood poisoning" caused by such germs as Friedlander's bacillus and bacillus pyocyaneus.

Dr. Raines also studied a small number of cases of tuberculosis, but he found that these patients did not respond to the streptomycin, although others have found that it is helpful in certain cases.

When streptomycin is used, it is important that a sufficient dose be employed and that it be given continually till the germs producing the infection are eliminated. Otherwise the germs may become streptomycin fast, that is, they become more resistant to the preparation, and then cure becomes extremely difficult.

Another use of streptomycin is as a preventive against infection when the bladder is examined through a cystoscope. In cases of stone in the kidney, ureter or bladder, where infection has been present long enough to make surgery dangerous, the giving of streptomycin may cause enough improvement that the operation can be performed with safety.

Thus, streptomycin has been found to be a valuable preparation in urinary tract infections which are not overcome by penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs.

VOICE OF BROADWAY
By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

A tiny lass—about six years old—lived up traffic outside the 48th Street Theatre the other night by turning up at the stage door just before curtain time carrying a small white rabbit which she pleaded to be allowed to present to Jimmy Stewart. A soft-hearted mounted policeman on duty at the alley broke a path through the crowd and escorted her backstage while the assembled mob of Jimmy's admirers broke into cheers. The new nightclub called "The Harlem" will burst upon the late hour patrons equipped with a $25,000 revolving stage.

The only one of its kind in the city. The idea? It's supposed to turn so that patrons in every part of the cafe can see the showgirls. The grapevine from Hollywood is carrying a bet that the Ilona Massey-Jay Kurtz wedding will never come off. It took an American bailonee, Brooklyn's own Jess Walters, to introduce opera in English at London's Covent Garden. Walters is in New York now on a visit and rather happy about the warm weather because he froze all Spring in heathless London. He reports that sometimes the cold was so intense in Covent Garden that the collective teeth-chattering of the audience sounded like applause.

Some of the more conservative East Side nighties have taken to barring men who appear wearing those bow-ties with two round electric lights in the wings of the bows. These trick cravats are not to be confused with the ties that glow in the dark, or those that spring into the air at the wearer's command. . . . Tenor Lee Stryker, Bing Crosby's protegee, is making his success in "Brigadoon" with an antique business in Long Island as a sideline.

A syndicate of wealthy Canadians is building lavish resorts importing Mexican and American entertainment to lure visitors away from South-of-the-Border vacation places and into the chillier Northern spaces. . . . So help me department: The big Christmas item this year will be a jukebox for the kiddies. It lights up 'n' everything.

26 Cars Are Derailed In Railroad Mishap

MEADVILLE, Aug. 7 (P)—Derailment of 26 cars in a 66-car Erie railroad freight train here today ripped up 300 feet of track and spilled wreckage for 600 feet along the right-of-way. None of the five crewmen aboard was injured.

Trainmaster J. D. McFadden said the wreck's cause apparently was a broken journal in a tank car which was sixth in line in the Buffalo-Chicago train. The locomotive and the first six cars remained on the tracks but east and west tracks on the Erie's mainline were so badly torn up officials estimated 20 hours would be required to clear up. All of the crew members were from Meadville.

Pennsylvania Airmen Escapes Death in Crash

CHANUTE FIELD, Ill., Aug. 7 (P)—Capt. Louis Benne, 26, Johnstown, Pa., parachuted to safety as his AT6 type trainer collided last night with an Army B25 in which three crew members were killed.

The dead were Lt. Ray Burlingame, 23, Fayetteville, O.; Capt. Frederick Zentler, 30, Chelmsford, Mass., and an unidentified man. Their B25 burst into flames after the crash.

Benne, who was taken to a hospital for observation and treatment of shock, was a veteran of 52 combat missions in the Mediterranean theater and had been a prisoner of war.

It is estimated that the United States has a minimum need for 232,000 tons of natural rubber per year.

Macedonia Leader Claims Refugees Flee Monarcho-Fascist Terror in Greece

By DANIEL DE LUCE
SKOPJE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 6 (AP)—Acting President Lubco Arsov of Yugoslavia said today his republic was sheltering more than 20,000 refugees from what he termed "monarcho-fascist terror" in Greece.
"Very few of the refugees are physically able to work," he said in an interview. "The majority are old men, women and children. The republic helps provide them with food and lodging."
Arsov denounced as "monarcho-fascist lies" recent foreign reports that an international brigade was forming in Yugoslavia for action against the Greek government and that continued civil war in Greece had been incited from Yugoslav Macedonia.
"(The official Greek version laid before the United Nations was that elements of an international brigade were in Southern Albania—not Yugoslavia. A U. N. subcommittee later reported it could find little 'first hand evidence' of such a brigade. The U. N. main border commission which visited the Balkans in the Spring returned a report holding Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria primarily responsible for the strife along Greece's northern border.)"
Arsov asserted that the unified foreign policy of the six "people's republics" which make up the federal Yugoslav state, of which Macedonia, or South Serbia, is one, was a "policy of peace."
"In Macedonia, the logical consequence of all our present efforts is peaceful prosperity, not war," Arsov said. "Since we are entirely engaged in building up our country, we have not time to think of quarreling with somebody else."
Arsov was elected first vice president of Macedonia, but heads the government during the Summer leave of President Lazar Koltashewski, who is at the Slovenian mountain resort of Bled with Marshal Tito.
Arsov is a husky former bank clerk and is 37. He has a kindly voice, which contrasts with his reputation as a fiery organizer of Macedonian resistance against Axis occupation. He was interned in 1942, but escaped a year later.
Asked whether Macedonia had ambitions to acquire Macedonian territory that is now Greek, Arsov replied:
"Marshal Tito has never made any territorial claims regarding Aegean Macedonia."
He asserted that foreign representatives in Yugoslavia had ample opportunity to see for themselves that allegations in Athens against this country were untrue.
He said there were no permanent Greek or Bulgarian minorities in Macedonia, but that Turkish and Albanian minorities existed.
"Before the war they had no schools in their own languages; now they have," he said.
He said the Macedonian campaign to erase illiteracy among 252,000 of the total population of less than 1,000,000 already had produced "no small success."
"In 1946 and 1947, some 55,300 have learned to read and write," he told this interviewer. "Before the war there were only 850 public schools. Now there are 1181 and 290 others are under construction. Schools have been increased in the same period from 17 to 27. Colleges of medicine and agriculture-forestry are being added this year to Skopje university, which before the war had only one faculty—languages. The number of students attending school in Macedonia is 18 percent greater than before the war."

Cab Driver Homesick On 10,000-Mile Trip

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 7 (AP)—A man on a long trip so long the driver became homesick was related today by the cabbie, 29-year-old James Smith of Washington, D. C.
The fare, Smith said, are N. R. Ramchandani and E. L. Varma, highway engineers for the government of India commissioned to study American roads. They chartered a bright orange and yellow taxi from Smith's employers, the Eagle Cab company of Washington, he said, and started out on a 10,000-mile lunary at 15 cents a mile.
"I'm a married man and have been homesick ever since I left home six weeks ago," Smith said upon arrival in Sacramento late yesterday, "but I'm not due back in Washington until Aug. 24."

The Indian emissaries conferred briefly with California highway officials before leaving for San Francisco, but declined comment.

Reading Mercy Slayer Held for Grand Jury

READING, Aug. 7 (AP)—Ella M. Haug, 47, charged with the "mercy slaying" of her mother, Katie Latshaw, on July 21, today was held for grand jury action after a hearing before Alderman Leroy C. Wanner.
Miss Haug, who tried to end her life also with sleeping tablets was escorted to the hearing from the Berks county prison by Constable Paul Weidner and later was returned to the institution where she has been confined since her recovery at the Reading hospital.
C. Wilson Austin, assistant district attorney, who represented the commonwealth, said after the hearing that Miss Haug's case will be placed before the September Grand jury.

Miss Betty Feather Becomes Bride of Navy Man Here

Cut garden flowers decorated the living room at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Snelberger, 5 West Sixth street, when their son, Morris Snelberger, recently wed Miss Betty Feather, daughter of Mrs. Ella Feather, Ringneck Hill.

The Rev. W. A. Martin, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, performed the double ring ceremony. The bride was attired in a powder blue suit with a white crocheted blouse, and matching accessories. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of yellow roses with an orchid.

Miss Gloria Snelberger, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a yellow suit with white accessories and carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath.

Dances of best man were performed by Mr. Victor Ayres. Mrs. Feather, mother of the bride, wore a gray dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses while Mrs. Snelberger, mother of the bridegroom, chose a blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to members of the immediate families with approximately 25 guests.

The couple are now honeymooning in Atlantic City, N. J. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit with brown accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

On Monday the bridegroom will leave for Jacksonville, Fla. where he is stationed and Mrs. Snelberger will reside at 5 West Sixth street.

the world go to bed hungry and sleep on the floor," he mourned. "These people are just beginning to demand something better, and Russia, like every other charlatan, is offering Communism as a remedy for the miserable conditions in the world."

He urged action now, saying that Russia can afford to wait, while "the world slips down lower and lower into the gutter," but that we must start to make a decent peace now.

"We are approaching the end of an era," Hunt declared. "Time is against us and is working for Russia, who fattens on the rising feeling of the awakening people."

In passing, the speaker called for a "return to sound, sturdy Americanism" as a solution to the problem of Communism, but did not elaborate.

Baseball Tycoon's Niece Is Missing From Home

FALMOUTH, Mass., Aug. 7 (AP)—Four-year-old Nancy Perini, niece of president Lou Perini of the Boston Braves baseball club, disappeared from her home late today—but her father, Charles Perini, scoffed at suggestions she might have been kidnapped.

"I can't understand why anybody would do a thing like that," Perini himself said. "She is a very bright child, and I am sure she is somewhere."

A State police automatic printer message said the youngster, one of four children in the Charles Perini family, "either wandered away or was taken in an automobile."

Eighty-five percent of our urban residents receive all their milk by truck.

NOW SHE SHOPS CASH AND CARRY

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it causes nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffing under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sensation is one more sign something is wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a permanent diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

State Bureau Okays Bond Issues Here

The $1,500,000 bond issue for the borough's purchase of the Pottstown Gas and Water company was approved yesterday by the State department of internal affairs. Also approved was Pottstown's $45,000 issue for improvements to the fire alarm system.

The action was expected, since the interest rate and premium which Pottstown will pay on the issue has been cited unusually low, and since Pottstown's credit rating is among the first 10 of 936 state communities.

The bonds are now rolling off Philadelphia presses, with delivery expected any day. When the cash is delivered and turned over to the Security Trust company escrow agent, the borough will be the operator of the waterworks. Present workers at the utility have agreed to work under supervision of Borough Manager Dow I. Sears.

Full legal ownership of the works must await dissolution of the company, now being expedited by a seven-man board of borough officials. Final settlement is expected by the September meeting of borough council.

Compensation Claims Faked, Paper Reports

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Philadelphia Inquirer said it learned today the State "has been defrauded of hundreds of thousands of dollars through faked workmen's compensation claims in the Philadelphia area."

The newspaper, in a story from its Harrisburg correspondent, said "the speculations involve at least four adjusters" and added a State police probe "has reached the stage where the State is ready to proceed with prosecutions."

The first dinosaur bone discovery was made in Connecticut.

ODOM FLIGHT —

En route from Chicago, the Bombshell flew 325 miles an hour at 19,000 feet.

The 27-year-old former British ferry command officer established a world's non-stop, glider-circling record of 18 hours and 55½ minutes in the same plane the past April with Melton Reynolds, Chicago pen manufacturer, as a passenger and T. Carroll Sallee as flight engineer. He hopes to complete his solo flight in 90 to 94 hours. Post's record is 186 hours.

Odom left Chicago at 1:33 p. m. His take-off had been postponed twice while mechanical difficulties were corrected. He was forced back the past Monday by mechanical trouble after reaching Halifax, Nova Scotia.

His flight plan called for stops at Paris, Cairo, Karachi, Calcutta, Shanghai, Tokyo, Anchorage, Alaska, or Adak in the Aleutians; Edmonton and Alberta, Can., and return to Chicago.

As Odom set his aircraft down at this huge base in the northeastern corner of Newfoundland, ground crews rushed out to refuel the plane and made a complete ground test.

Odom grabbed a hasty meal and checked over his aircraft himself before roaring down the runway exactly one hour after landing.

Automotive Disputes Idle 80,000 Men

DETROIT, Aug. 7 (AP)—More than 80,000 of the nation's automotive workers were idle today as the result of a combination of labor disputes, materials shortages and absenteeism, the latter ascribed somewhat broadly to excessive heat.

Meanwhile, production fell off sharply from last week figures compiled by the trade paper Automotive News showing 79,647 units this week compared with last week's 95,711.

Lay-offs for 55,000 Ford Mercury and Lincoln plant workers and 10,000 Studebaker corporation hourly-rated employees have been attributed to management spokesmen to a strike of 7000 Murray Corporation of America production men.

British Responsible for Civil War In Greece, Bulgaria Tells U. N.

By LARRY HAUCK
LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Bulgaria today accused Britain of starting a civil war in Greece and indirectly labeled Greece a satellite of "certain big powers."

Assailing Greek Ambassador Vassili Dendramis for telling the United Nations Security Council that Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Albania were Russian satellites, Bulgarian representative Nisim Mevorah declared to the council there was much more reason to call Greece a satellite in view of "the political and economic dependence of Greece on certain big powers."

Then lashing out at Britain specifically in the most heated debate on Balkan disorders, the Bulgarian added:

"It is well known that Britain established the present regime in Greece. They gave the signal for the civil war which has bathed Greece in blood for almost three years and transformed Greek independence into a myth."

The undiplomatic name-calling in the somber council chamber was touched off by Dendramis' speech yesterday in which he warned that Greece was being engulfed by Russia and her satellites and the council should act fast to save her.

Mevorah said the Greek reference to satellites was an "intolerable insult" to his country and the council and that he would not follow the example of the Greeks and use the word.

Chairman Faris El Khoury, Syria, noted that Dendramis already had struck the phrase from the record after a reprimand from the chair.

Nest: Kerenki, Albania, said such statements could be expected from the Greeks and he anticipated Dendramis would call them more names before the case was over.

Speeches by the Bulgarian and Albanian took up more than an hour of the council meeting and delegates then turned to further debate on Indonesia.

A seven-nation sub-committee attempting to work out an acceptable resolution on halting Balkan frontier disturbances scheduled a session for tomorrow after a fruitless meeting this morning.

Following a Russian veto of the American resolution and the 9 to 2 defeat of Russian and Polish proposals, the council was without a definite plan of any kind on the Greek case.

In the Indonesian debate the council voted down a request from the Philippines for the right to participate in the discussions. The ballot was 6 to 0, with seven affirmative votes needed for passage.

Ohioan Charges Reds Disliked By Hungarians

PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Stephan Thuransky, 54-year-old naturalized American citizen who fought off his political jailers in Budapest with the aid of his wife and sped to safety in an American legation automobile, said today that 90 percent of Hungarians are opposed to the present Communist dominated regime.

"I am glad to get out of that hell-hole," Thuransky declared in an interview.

Thuransky, a farm machinery salesman from Columbus, Ohio, arrived today with his wife, Theresa, 43 and their daughters Margaret, 25, and Mary, 21, after an airplane flight from Budapest.

"We spent a year in Hungary," Thuransky said. "I was supposed to sell farm machinery, but I never sold a single piece. Hungarians would come to me all the time and tell me what they thought of the Communists."

"I fought the Communists in Hungary in 1919, before I went to the United States, and I never kept my opinions to myself."

"I never thought it could happen to me, an American citizen—being arrested. You can imagine what is happening all the time to the Hungarians. Ninety percent of them are against Communism."

Thuransky and his family have reservations on the American freighter Marine Juniper, leaving Le Havre Aug. 10 for an unannounced American port.

"I won't feel good until I get on that ship," Thuransky said. "Believe me, it will be good to get home."

Hungarian officials have said Thuransky orally "rejoiced the Hungarian republic."

Bombshell Heads Toward Paris

Capt. William P. Odom, shown climbing into the cockpit of his Reynolds Bombshell, early this morning was nearing Paris, France, in his attempted solo dash around the globe. Odom, who previously was forced to turn back because of difficulty with ailerons, left Chicago yesterday afternoon. He stopped for an hour at Gander, Newfoundland, last night, then took off for Paris at 8:11 o'clock Pottstown time in the twin-engine converted A26 bomber. (Story on Page One)

Army Officers Must Prove Ability to Attain Promotions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—All Army officers will have to prove their right to be promoted, rather than rely on seniority to advance them, under a new law signed today by President Truman.

The promotion-by-merit law also covers admirals. The system already was in effect for other grades in the Navy.

The law is intended to weed out the less fit and replace them with the better qualified.

The legislation, in the words of the House armed services committee, "will offer careers satisfactory enough to attract capable men, promising enough to hold in service, the capable men already in uniform."

It provides for promotion of Army officers based upon the recommendations of boards of officers passing on their qualifications.

Officers in the grades of first lieutenant, captain, major and lieutenant colonel heretofore have been promoted automatically, after specified length of service and finally to the rank of colonel as vacancies occurred.

Now any officer through the rank of major who fails twice in a row of winning recommendation for promotion will be dropped from service.

An illustration of how the old promotion system worked was afforded in the case of James A. Kilian, who was court-martialed and fined on charges involving cruelty to American prisoners by men under his command at Lichfield, England.

TRUMAN SAYS GOP WRONG ON SAVINGS CLAIM

Chief Executive Plans Own Study and Report On Economic Picture

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—President Truman today challenged the economy claims of the Republican Congress and announced a detailed and exhaustive study of his own. When that is completed, he declared, he will give his own version of what Congress did about economy—an issue that promises to figure in next year's presidential campaign.

The President read a statement to his new conference saying that "none of the predictions I have seen" give any proper picture of Federal spending in the new fiscal year.

He took a stand against "any hasty predictions on the amount of so-called savings effected by the Congress in the 1948 budget until all the facts are in."

Republican economy claims disputed by the Democrats, range variously to as high as $6,600,000,000 for the fiscal year, which began July 1.

Mr. Truman cited a number of "shifts and changes" voted by Congress in his budget plans for spending $37,500,000,000 in the fiscal year, and continued:

"What is most important, however, is the fact that none of the predictions I have seen properly reflect congressional changes in appropriations to estimated expenditures for 1948."

"In the last analysis, the American people are more interested in how much their Government will actually spend during this fiscal year than they are in shifts and changes in the appropriations structure."

"For these reasons, I have ordered a detailed and exhaustive study of all the facts. When this is completed, I shall issue a review and analysis, supported by detailed tables and summaries, which will bring up to date revised estimates of receipts and expenditures for this fiscal year."

Mr. Truman said that some of the complex factors which must be taken into consideration are: Substitution by Congress of contract authority for actual appropriations in some cases.

Delay of enactment until after July 1 of some appropriations originally requested for the previous fiscal year.

Provision for "certain agencies, such as the Post Office and National Labor Relations board on a 'part year' basis," with instructions from Congress to come back for more money if needed.

Mr. Truman also said that a large part of cutbacks in funds made by Congress "were in funds which would have not been spent anyway."

Senator Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the senate appropriations committee, has contended that the "people of the country have been saved $6,616,578,029 as a result of the Republican Congress."

Heiress 'Mad' at Mother, Uncle Tells Overell Jury

SANTA ANA, Calif., Aug. 7 (AP)—A wealthy uncle of Louise Overell, 18-year-old heiress, testified today at her trial on charges of slaying her parents that he once read a line in a diary: "I get so mad at my mother I could kill her."

His statement came after defense attorneys had introduced evidence of her mother's mental condition.

The witness was Emmanuel Jungquist, president of the Personal Steel company, Los Angeles. He said he glanced through the diary at the home of a brother, Fred Jungquist, where Louise stayed four days a week while she was studying at the University of Southern California.

Louise, 18, is accused jointly with George (Bud) Gollum, her sweetheart, of slaying her mother and Mrs. Walter E. Overell aboard their dynamited yacht in Newport harbor March 15.

On cross-examination, Jungquist was asked by Defense Attorney Otto Jacobs chief of Louise's counsel, if he recalled on what date she made the statement.

"You are in a better position than I am to answer that question," Jungquist declared. "You have the diary."

Emmanuel Jungquist testified also to a conversation with Louise on Monday, March 17, two days after the blast.

"We talked about funeral arrangements," he declared. "I asked her when she would like to have her parents buried. She said 'the sooner the better.'"

"I told her that in my opinion the trustees would want to dispose of the home (The Overells' palatial mansion is in Flamingo, north of Pasadena. She lived during the week with her mother's brother to avoid the long drive between her home and school).

"Louise said 'that is my home now, and I want to live in it. And I want the two automobiles.'"

"I told her they (the trustees) would probably dispose of the Washington Finance company (of which Overell was president).

"Louise said, 'I have always liked business. I want to keep it and intend to make Bud president of the company.'"

He said Gollum attended the reading of the will with him and Louise the following day. After it was read, making Louise the sole heir, he said she was asked how much money she thought she needed for living expenses.

"I will need $1000 a month," he quoted her.

Virginia Hill Leaves Paris; To Clear Name

PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Virginia Hill, weeping furiously and sobbing that "I'd just as soon jump off the airplane," left Paris by air tonight for the United States where American police have indicated the underworld might put the pretty California party girl's life in jeopardy.

Ending a hectic two-month stay in Paris and swank Mediterranean resorts, during which the late Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel was shot to death in her California home June 20, the raven-haired Miss Hill took off for New York on a Transworld Airlines plane from Orly field at 6:30 p. m. (Pottstown time).

Butter, frequently incoherent and verging on hysteria as she talked with a reporter just before boarding the plane, Miss Hill said she would set things right with the press when she arrived in the United States.

Since Siegel, gambler, man-about-town and Nevada night club operator, was slain, Miss Hill has been mentioned frequently in the American press.

As she arrived at the airport and walked to the customs office, she was approached by the reporter. Dropping her three silver fur shawls, she sobbed, "Why don't you leave me alone?"

"I'm going home because I want to go home," Miss Hill said between sobs. "I'm going home to answer all those nasty stories about me. I'm not going to talk to anyone until I see my lawyer."

Then, as an afterthought, she added, "I can take care of myself. I've been doing it for 30 years and I can keep on."

Two burned by blast

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7 (AP)—An explosion of undetermined origin blasted the roof off a North Philadelphia truck repair and paint shop, blew out sections of the building's walls and started a fire that burned two men today.

Fifty-seven percent of all livestock shipped to stockyards in the United States go by truck.

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR of The Mercury Staff

A fellow swore up and down one day that he'd never take another vacation.

Getting some time off for the first in many moons, he stuffed his wife and kids in the old family bus (he was number 87 on the new car list) and pulled away from his house for a week's rest.

Crrunch! He'd driven over his golf clubs. Some idiot neglected to put them in the trunk. To top it off, a splinter from one of the clubs punctured a tire. Undaunted, he put on a spare and started out again.

Two blocks away his straw hat blew out the window, and in trying to grab it, he whammed into a Mack truck. The damage cost him his vacation money. Electing to spend a quiet week at home, he presumed that he could at least get sunshine in his own back yard. But . . . it rained every single day. Some people have all the luck. Bad, that is.

"Spending a few days down here. Saw the boats come in with 20 marlin, one shark, and one porpoise." So said Mrs. Rose Byndac, Linfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry

Russia Bars Path To Freedom, Griffith Tells State Legion

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7 (AP)—Describing Russia as "the great enemy of freedom," the national American Legion commander today declared present ideological clashes between the United States and the Soviet nation "may, God forbid, precipitate a shooting war."

Paul H. Griffith of Uniontown, addressing the 29th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Legion, said:

"The two worlds already are engaged in sledgehammer diplomatic, political and economic battles that may, God forbid, precipitate a shooting war. The present struggle is between the so-called Marshall and Molotov plans on the outcome of which now rests the economic and political fate of all Europe."

Griffith's remarks sounded a somber note in the convention program, but were followed by exuberant pranks and the making of thousands of veterans of World War I and II. The four-day meeting opened yesterday and will conclude Saturday.

Griffith asserted "Enduring peace has been sabotaged by Russian obstructionism" and continued:

"Soviet Russia has contributed only one clarification to the present post-war world chaos. She has indicated herself as the great new enemy of human freedom."

"Her record in international collaboration since V-J day, is a record of betrayal and failure to co-operate, of aggression against helpless neighbors, of world-wide conspiracies for revolution and for bloodshed."

"Her actions already have split the world in two. One half is slave. The other — a constantly shrinking half — is yet free."

He asserted the hope for security of the United States is in this nation's own strength and said that the American Legion has championed universal military training and unification of the armed services as a means to this strength.

The remainder of the convention session was occupied with reports of state and national officers. The session was adjourned at 4 p. m. for the Legion all-stars baseball game at Forbes field.

Clyde E. Rankin, retiring state commander, was appointed to the $5500 a year post of deputy state adjutant general in charge of veterans affairs. Rankin, a native of Kane now living in Philadelphia, succeeds Philip Bucca, also of Philadelphia, who resigned recently amid charges that the state adjutant general failed to assign him to definite duties.

Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber, state adjutant general, announced Rankin's appointment at the convention. Rankin joins Col. J. Floyd Kuhns, of Greensburg, appointed the past Feb. 11 as deputy in charge of military affairs.

CHURCHILL FIGHTS —

it, Labor's large majority seemed sufficient despite some left-wing criticism that the program was "too little and too late."

The bill would reinforce and extend the government's power — retained from war time — to direct labor into "necessary" industries and otherwise take steps deemed necessary for the national good.

Attlee yesterday described his plan as involving "some measure" of labor control and "some sacrifice" of personal liberty in order to win a "second battle of Britain."

Churchill's counter-move came along with three significant developments in the government's struggle against an intensifying crisis.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton announced in the house of commons a further cut in the armed forces. Service personnel will be reduced to 870,000 by the end of 1948, he said. This compared with the goal announced only yesterday by Attlee, of a reduction to 1,007,000 by the end of next March. The armed forces now number about 1,300,000.

The British treasury announced that 75 percent of the earnings of foreign films—most of them produced in Hollywood—would be taken by the government in the form of taxes, not merely "frozen" as Attlee's speech indicated yesterday. American film producers took $68,000,000 out of Britain the past year. The taxes are effective immediately.

AREA RAINFALL —

Phoenixville-Mont Clare region late last night, while the Collegeville-Limerick area received hardly any.

Theodore Baker, farm worker at Laurel Locks farms along Schuylkill road, stated that their 250 acres of corn looked "very nice" and that no damage was noted. He agreed that yesterday's rainfall "came at an excellent time."

"Our other crops are good considering the dry spell. Oats were sun-burned somewhat, but it was nothing serious."

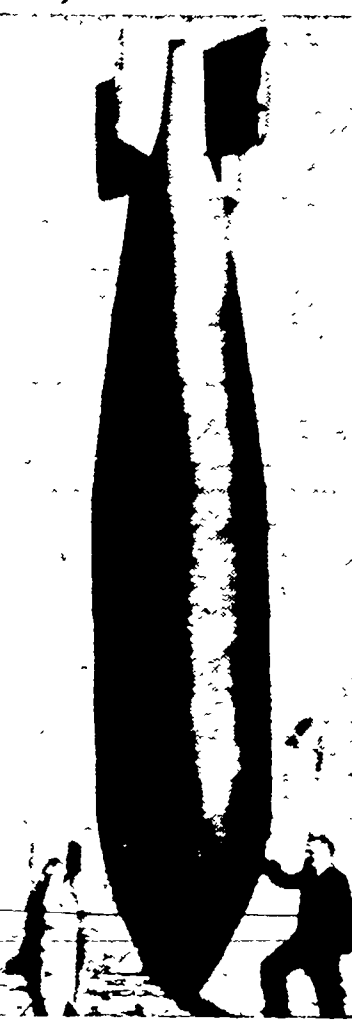

"We have a good well," he said, "and we had no trouble with it drying up."

Yesterday's humidity brought complaints from borough citizens about it "being so sticky," although the mercury hailed 1 p. m. at 78 mark, nine degrees lower than the previous day's 87.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are predicted for Eastern Pennsylvania today, with coolness tonight. Tomorrow is to be generally fair and less humid.

to know whether it was Hughes' own or whether Carl Byoir, public relations man, had prepared it. Hughes acknowledged assistance from his attorney and Byoir in preparing questions at Brewster but declared the statement was his own.

And Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), subcommittee chairman, accused Hughes of "trying to discredit the committee" and added "that means the integrity of the United States Senate is at stake." Ferguson told Hughes "If you believe that because of your great wealth and because you have access to certain publicity channels you can do that, I want to advise you you are mistaken. And that is final."

At that Senator Pepper protested that Ferguson was reading from a statement prepared in advance and "I am authorized to say for the minority (Democrats) members of the committee that neither they nor I have seen the statement prior to its delivery."

Ferguson acknowledged he was delivering the scolding from a prepared statement and declared "the time had come to advise the witness."

Brewster disclaimed any "improprieties," "lobbying" connections with Pan American, or "cracking the whip" over Hughes from a position of power as chairman of the full war investigating committee.

But Hughes ascribed to him a reputation of being "one of the greatest trick shot artists in Washington" and staked his reputation for truth squarely against that of the senator.

400 Fans Watch Local Bi-State League Team Back Nagle's Pitching

With 400 fans looking on, the Pottstown Cardinals scored early and went on to win over the Royersford All-Stars, 9-5, last night on the Royersford High school field.

Pas Jacketti started the Cardinals rolling when he drove in the first run of the game in the top of the first inning. Royersford tied it up in its half of the same inning, but the Cardinals came back in the second to score twice and take a lead it never relinquished.

Two more runs checked in for Pottstown in the third before Royersford touched Don Nagle for its second tally in the bottom of the fourth inning. Pottstown added three more in the fifth to increase its lead only to have Royersford push another two runs in the sixth to make it 8-4. The All-Stars cut another run off the lead in the seventh, but the Cards preserved their four run lead by scoring another counter in the top of the ninth.

The Cardinals collected a total of 17 hits off two Royersford pitchers while Nagle held the All-Stars to five safeties—one being a home run by Bill Nelson with no mates aboard.

HOGAN, KEISER SET HOT PACE IN GOLF TOURNEY

Two Pros Clip 5 Strokes Off Par 70 Course; Worsham, Payton Second

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 7 (P)—Poker-faced Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and a big, quiet guy from Akron, Herman Keiser, carried five strokes off tough Indian Canyon's par 70 today and took the early lead in the four-day 72-hole $10,000 Esmeralda Open golf tournament.

Even these stellar performances, however, did not leave them safely in front, as Open Champion Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., and George Payton, Hampton, Pa., both made the nine-hole turn in 31, four under par.

Treading on the leaders' toes was Ed Furgol of Pontiac, Mich., whose 66 had made him the leader for half an hour until Keiser came boiling in. Then Longworth of Portland, Ore.; Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles; and Bill Nary of Phoenix were close up with 67s.

Western Amateur Champion Bud Ward scrambled to a 72 and top spot among the Simon Pures went to his fellow Spokaneite, Ken Storey, who had 69. Linked with Storey was John Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz.

Only entrant missing among the name pros was E. J. D. (Dutch) Harrison of York, Pa. Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, fresh from his triumph in the St. Paul Open, arrived just before tee-off time this morning. The entry total was 125, with professionals slightly outnumbering amateurs.

The schedule calls for 18 holes of play daily, with the low 60 scores plus ties continuing in the competition Saturday and Sunday. The winning pro will drag down $2000 and the top amateur $100, as permitted by the USGA.

5 New Members Admitted Into El Chico A. C.

El Chico A.C., striving to make its first year of football a big one, held a special meeting last night and announced that it has acquired equipment to field a fully-uniformed team this fall.

The meeting was held at the clubhouse and was presided over by Don Griesmer, taking over for President Al Levegood who is on vacation. Twenty-one members attended the meeting.

The athletic club is still looking for a man with some football experience to coach its team this fall. The club has announced that it hopes to field a 25-man semi-pro team and will play teams from Pottstown and surrounding area.

Another important object of last night's meeting was the nomination for new officers for the coming year. The election of the new officers will be held at the next meeting which has been scheduled for Thursday evening.

Five new members were admitted to the club at last night's meeting. Those who were approved by the club were Johnny Koon, little end who started on the past year's Pottstown High football team; Tony Salvatore, Jim Stoudt, Charles Rhoads and Richard Yerger.

700 Watch Stewart and Bachman Hook Up in Long Pitching Duel; Cardinales Tied in 1-1 Tilt

Tena Stewart and Ann Butkowski Bachman met on a softball field for the second time this year, but this time neither girl was able to win the ball game.

Some 700 cheering fans watched as Stewart and Bachman engaged in a pitching duel for 12 innings, and when the umpires called the game after those 12 long innings, the Pottstown Cardinales and the Lancaster Maplelettes were all tied up, 1-1, at Lancaster last night.

In the first meeting between the two teams at Pottstown, the Cardinales, with the aid of Stewart's home run, turned back the Maplelettes, 2-1, in another thriller.

Last night's game held thrills from start to finish and it was a pair of errors in the bottom of the seventh that saved Bachman from losing to her bitter rival for the second time this year.

The Cardinales held a 1-0 lead with the game going into the last half of the final inning. Shirley Brooks lined one into left field and "Eckie" Young fumbled the ball allowing Brooks to move all the way to second. On the next play, "Stony" Stoudt fumbled Edith Herr's grounder and the ball rolled into center field allowing Brooks to score with the tying run.

Stewart allowed only five hits to the Maplelettes while her teammates were pounding Bachman for 11 safeties. Marie Rogosky, who singled home Bessy Brile in the third inning with the only Pottstown run, led the attack with four safeties.

The little centerfielder pounded out four hits and grounded out in five official times to bat. She collected more than one third of Pottstown's safeties off the well known Lancaster hurler.

Stewart walked only one batter during her stay on the mound and fanned 10 batters. Bachman allowed the same number of walks but registered 11 strike outs.

CONSTRUCTION IS BLAMED FOR STAND CAVE IN

No Punitive Action Taken on Owners; Injured Sent Home

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 7 (P)—Faulty construction was blamed today by State police for the collapse of temporary bleachers which injured 73 trotting race fans at Good Time park yesterday but an officer said no punitive action was planned.

Lt. H. J. Sanderon of the Monroe State police barracks, who participated in an investigation of the accident, said there was no evidence of malice and that the reputation of William Cane, park owner, was well known.

Mrs. Edward Correll of Sherburne, N. Y., last of the injured persons to leave the hospital, was released to go to her home today. Thirty of those hurt received hospital treatment.

The injured were among 22,000 assembled for the running of the Hambletonian trotting stakes, the nation's annual harness classic.

Bogus Currency Floods U. S.; Much Comes From Europe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (P)—The secret service today reported new counterfeiting activity in this country and "an influx of counterfeit American currency from Europe."

Seizures of bogus coins and bills in the past year totaled $266,000, a sum approaching "pre-war proportions," Secret Service Chief James J. Malone said in a report to Secretary of the Treasury. Since operations for fiscal year ended June 30.

Malone said the legislation making terminal leave bonds cashable by veterans after Sept. 1 "widens the field for criminal operations."

"Banks can insure themselves against major losses if they will insist on veterans' discharge papers as identification before cashing this type of bond," he added. He suggested that veterans bring their separation papers as identification when cashing the bonds.

Nearly all the foreign counterfeit-hand money was brought in by mail or by express, or in mail and bank remittances from abroad, the secret service chief said. Most of it was detected before it reached American shorekeepers.

The notes were usually of poor quality types known to the service before the war, but there was evidence of some new counterfeiting activity both at home and abroad, he added.

Seizures of counterfeit money were more than three times as great as the $15,000 taken in fiscal 1946, when counterfeiting activity had not recovered from the wartime controls on engraving equipment, metals and chemicals.

Chiang Visits Yenan; Plans Better Defense

NANKING, Aug. 7 (P)—Semi-official sources said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek flew today to Yenan, onetime Communist capital, to confer on strengthening his government's defenses in that northern area.

Yenan fell to a nationalist assault the past March 19. There was no word on fighting when he departed north of there earlier, but in Shantung province to the east, government successes were reported.

Pro-government accounts said the nationalists were increasing pressure along the Tsin-Tsinghai railway, and had pressed the Communists back against the Gobi Desert.

On the Szechwan seaboard, the government claimed recapture of Kuanhsien, 40 miles northwest of Tsin-tao.

COATESVILLE, Aug. 7 (P)—The walkout of the force of 50 employees caused a shutdown of the plant of the Wedge Steel Chapel, Inc., today.

The workers members of local 670, Inverna coal bridge and structural iron workers, AFL, demanded a wage increase of 20 cents an hour, six holidays a year with pay and an insurance plan.

Representatives of the employees said their contract expired May 28 and it had not been possible to negotiate a new one. Ray Linski, company president, said he had not been served with a 30-day strike notice and that the walkout was illegal.
